STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT FOR CO-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Co-curricular programs contribute to the educational, emotional, and social development of students. Since students do not receive grades and credits for participation in co-curricular programs, students elect to participate in these activities for personal development and gratification. Co-curricular activities include elected student body offices, student clubs and organizations, athletics and cheerleading.

Students who elect to participate in or compete for the opportunity to participate in co-curricular activities have inherent responsibilities to conduct themselves in a manner that reflects the values of the school, school district, community, state, and the nation they represent. In addition to the behavioral standards and disciplinary consequences applicable to all students in the District, each student desiring to participate in a co-curricular activity just comply with the District's Co-curricular Code of Conduct. The Co-curricular Code of Conduct is applicable to students when they are going to, coming from, or participating in a school activity.
